

GET OUT YOUR RODS AND LINES.

Utah's Trout Streams Open After Midnight Tonight.

SUGGESTIONS TO URCHINS.

The Day a Very Profitable One for The Lad With the Seedy Looking Outfit.

Now, fish?
Get out your rods and lines; your willow grubs, hackles, flies, worms, bugs, professors, insects, bucktails, spinners, baskets, reels, sinkers, (including those the good wife makes) hooks, leaders, lines and—stories!
And there are other things to get which may not be mentioned here.
Fish Commissioner Sharp says that all who desire to do a little fishing and much prevarication may put their implements for both sports into commission at 12:01 a. m. of Sunday, June 15.
The streams, which are pretty well stocked with speckled beauties, will be open at one minute after midnight tonight.
But wait until Monday's issue if you want to know how many the fellows caught and how big they were. If on Monday you see bunches of men standing together on the sidewalks and gesticulating somewhat wildly, do not imagine that some magic has changed the town into a home of lunatics; no, no; because they will merely be showing how they espyed a good hole, catch-ed him, and then show by their arm for both of them if one isn't long enough how big the catch was.
The "News" sporting editor would suggest to the boy with a willow, a carpet-rag line and pinhook, to just show up about the time the fellows will be coming home—it will pay very handsomely, because the men with fine split bamboos won't come home without fish if the ragged urchin has 'em in his basket and the "tony" anglers have the prize.

No Crime Committed.

W. L. French, pitcher, and R. Wolfe, second baseman of the Texarkana team in the Texas league, were arrested in their baseball suits just after the close of a game between Dallas and Texarkana a couple of weeks ago. They were charged with obtaining money under false pretenses from Frank Quigg, manager of an independent baseball team at Oklahoma City. The boys used $50 advance money, it is alleged. The players employed counsel and instituted habeas corpus proceedings before Judge Watlington, who held that they were being held without process and had committed no offense, and therefore released them.

Western Wonder.

John Creahan, in Sporting Life, says: Amateur billiard players of the first order, and in all parts of the country, will have to look to their laurels, as there is "a young Lochinvar who came out of the west," who promises to not only rank first among their class, but may easily be their champion if the reports which reach us are true, and we have no reason to doubt their veracity. The expert in question is Mr.
Charles Ferris, a pupil of George E.
Spears, proprietor of the billiard room at the West hotel, Minneapolis, where Mr. Ferris recently, in a 14-inch ball line game, 300 points on a 5x10 table, made runs of 25, 73 and 194, with an average of 35.8. Mr. Ferris' opponent was Mr. Spears, his teacher, who scored but 67 while his pupil made 300.
This is certainly phenomenal billiards for almost anyone. It may be the result of accident, but is not likely to be such. As Mr. Ferris is engaged to play in a three handed tournament, his work will be watched with marked attention in all parts of the country, and at the close of the tournament this man's playing may be able to locate him among the amateurs of America.

Dope for Marksmen.

C. F. Reust won the territorial championship at flying target on May 14 at Enid, O. T., breaking 46 out of 50.
In the shoot of the Princeton university Gun club, May 23, Gaines, 65, was high, with 41 out of 50 flying targets.
Pardoe and Stutesman had 49 each and Archer 38.

The Carteret Gun club, of New York, has decided to secure grounds in New Jersey. After looking over several locations they have decided on the Het-field farm, which is about one mile from Westfield, N. J.

At the West Manchester, Ohio, tournament, May 21, L. H. Reid, of College Corner, Ohio, made the remarkable average of 97 1/2 per cent on 275 targets shot at. He made one run of 122 straight and another of 50 straight. Mr. Reid is an amateur.

Several members of the Staunton, Va., Gun club shot at chimney swallows at that place a few days ago. The swallows were captured in a large chimney.
They were released from traps, and the best the marksmen could do was about 50 per cent of kills.

Ed Hough, "Forest and Stream" Chicago correspondent in speaking of the attempt to stop trap shooting in Illinois, fears even that composition blue rock may be included in the protected "birds." He derives much satisfaction from the fact that there is still a tin can left, but is of the opinion that the S. P. C. A. will make strenuous objection against the gunners using tin cans to shoot at.

Too Bad! Too Bad!

The Omaha World-Herald has adopted a brand of dope that is too strong for it. It ought to go back to No. 1 hop. Read this:

"As much as I love Kid Nichols, and we were brought up together on the same farm, I love my country, I love my flag, and I love my beer, and for the sake of the one I cannot sacrifice the trinity. The Kid is a fine old boy and deserves a better fate. But he was born in the wet of the wrong kind of a moon, and although he is one of the most distinguished citizens of Kansas City, one of the most voluptuous towns in the whole great west, he is a dead beat. Has his kidneys gained greater happiness because he renounced Omaha, fled to Boston and finally landed in Kansas City? Do all the trophies won by posing as a great man in a rural metropolis, with all its civilization, its treasures of science, its enchanted realms of painting, poetry, sculpture, music, eloquence, its elegancies and luxuries, cares and crimes, the daily anxieties and toils and battles for its miscellaneous prizes; its galling conventionalities, its scourging necessities, its magnificent rivalries, its treacherous smiles—real ability failing where grimacing trickery succeeds; mere poverty despised and mere golf adored; genius trampled beneath the boots of pompous dullness; frank honesty supplanted by wily villany; right throttled by the ruffian hand of power, do all these things outweigh existence in Omaha, where a man is judged by the brand of pipe he smokes, and where his chances of going to Congress are equal to his chances of going to jail? I don't think he will agree with me."

BITS OF INFORMATION.

The additions of Hartford and Springfield to the Connecticut League, and of Syracuse to the New York league, were wise moves for the cities and the leagues. Each league has been measurably strengthened, while the cities are receiving good ball.

Predictions that American league players would return to the old organization "in droves" have not been fulfilled—unless five men constitute a drove.

The only National league magnates who publicly advocate a fight to the finish are those who were hit hardest by the last American league player raid —Philadelphia Brooklyn and St. Louis.

President Johnson is making an effort to expedite American league games, which are, as a rule, being played in slower time than last season.
It is noticed that the ex-league players carry their tactics with them, and that with each fresh infusion of old league blood the American league games drag more.

No league is using the new fangled foul line.

Refusal to give the opposing team its half of the inning in a game not called by the umpire would be cause for forfeiture.

Anson has retired from base ball and is now running a billiard hall in Chicago.

Jesse Burkett, now with St. Louis, was once a pitcher for Worcester and New York.

Peoria has a Maloney and a Mahoney playing side by side in the field. Pity the scorers!

The Texas league has adopted a new schedule to make the distribution of Sunday and holiday games more equitable. Each of the six clubs put up a cash forfeit of $200 to play the season through to September 13.

The Southern league has introduced another innovation on a par with furnishing printed reports of its meetings.
President Nicklin furnishes each month the official averages of the players thus stimulating players and pleasing patrons. Other leagues might follow the Southern league's example with profit, even though it may entail some extra labor for league presidents.

Tim Murnane has come to the conclusion that most of the major league clubs will have a poor season, that Messrs. Branch and Robbley will lose his money, and that some American league clubs will also suffer.

Milwaukee has released second baseman Grant.

Decatur has signed Outfielder Hall, late of Evansville.

Nashville has released pitchers Brady and Breitenstein.

Pitcher Cogswell has been released by the Columbus club.

First Baseman Carr has been sold by Toronto to Jersey City.

Shortstop Cronin, late of Waterbury, has signed with Springfield.

Rock Island has released and Seattle has signed Pitcher Frank Boyle.

The Baltimore club has signed Pitcher Heisman, late of Cincinnati.

Pitcher Mitchell, of Boston, has been transferred to the Athletic club.

Pitcher Jerry Bresnahan, of Thoridike, Mass., has signed with Worcester.

The Birmingham club has recalled Third Baseman Walter Warren from the North Carolina league.

Terre Haute has signed Pitcher Martin, late of Davenport, and Catcher Sam North, of Belleville, Ill.

Manager Kreis, of the Chattanooga club, has resigned. Jack Doan, a pitcher on the team, has been elected to succeed him.

The New York club has signed Outfielder McDonald of Philadelphia. Jack Boyle has resigned the captaincy, his successor being George Smith.

Mr. Charles Somers, of Cleveland, has received a letter from Col. John I. Rogers agent the Ladole case but refuses to discuss or reveal the document.

The New York Baseball club, on July 3, offered $1,500 for the release by Worcester to New York of Joseph F.
Rickert, Worcester's left fielder. The offer was turned down.

THOMPSON VS M'LAUGHLIN.

Will Go Catch-as-Catch-Can; Lewis Strangle Barred.

MUST WEIGH 160 POUNDS.

Winner will Take All the Gate Receipts and a Side Bet of a Hundred Dollars.

On account of inability to secure the hall at Park City for Saturday evening, June 21, the wrestling match between G. C. McLaughlin and Eugene Thompson will be pulled off in the mining town on Friday evening, June 20.
The contest is to be for $100 a side and the entire gate receipts. Inasmuch as these terms have been agreed to there may be anticipated a wrestling match worth seeing, especially as pin falls are to govern in the competition.
This class of wrestling requires the victorious wrestler to pin his opponent down before he can claim the fall. The best two falls out of three credited to either contestant makes him the winner. The men are to weigh in at 160 pounds and will wrestle catch-as-catch-can holds, the Lewis strangle being barred. Mr. Thompson is training with husky Jack Graham and will be in good condition for the contest.

Amateur Billiard Tournament.

Some very creditable work has been done in the amateur billiard tournament at Foley's room, Chicago, where there are 10 players, the game being the 14-inch ball line. The runs of from 15 to 29 have been made, with averages of from 3 to nearly 7. This will rank on a par with the average amateur tournament of the country.
This playing was during the second week. It is more than probable that the players will do even better later on, commendable as their work has been so far. This is the season of the year when tournaments should take place in public rooms, although it is rather difficult to get players.

Sporting Notes.

Tommy Hall, of the Monarch team, has been matched to race Harry Caldwell at the Hartford, Conn., Coliseum on June 24.

Among the sprinters, Kramer still leads in winnings, but McFarland has given him a close argument on many occasions, while the other short distance men are reaching such form that some interesting competition is assured.

Iver Lawson, of the Cleveland team, is still in Europe, and although defeated in a couple of races has scored heavily on the foreigners at other times.
He expects to return in time to start on the N. C. A. grand circuit early in July.
The governing organization of this country has granted him permission to stay abroad until after the Grand Prix.

Lester Wilson, the Rambler rider of Pittsburg, has won his initial middle distance race, but will now take to sprinting. John T. Fisher, of the Monarch team, fell before Eddie Bull's speed at Buffalo and is much chagrined that he should be defeated by the quondam bicycle champion, who, by the way, is traveling very fast.

Bob Armstrong has received two offers from Jeff and Fitz to go to California and train them, but Robert has a match of his own on the tapis. He is to fight Denver Ed Martin during the coronation in London on July 1. On paper this looks like the only match of the bunch.
The balance of them are not fit for third rate clubs.

The 1902 racing rules of the N. C. A. have just been issued in book form, and they show some very important changes in the government of national championship races. Most important of all is the provision that requires all entries to championship events to be filed at least 10 days previous to the day of the meet and making it necessary for a rider to enter for the entire circuit before his entry is accepted for a championship event. The scoring points are 5 for first, 3 for second, 2 for third and 1 for fourth. Provision is made for double and triple championships at the regulation distances. The championship races will be run in four heats, with a semi-final, limited to four riders, two out of each to qualify for the final. This puts four men in the final instead of two, as in last year's rule.

The American is now reaping some of the rewards of his foolish action at Chicago, where Dineen was reinstated. But for this there would have been no taking back of Sheppard, of Taylor and of other contract jumpers, and but for this peace might have been declared long ago. The league has lost by its connection with the money hungry one of these men. Dineen has stuck to Boston, but the club has gained nothing by his playing. Wright went back to Cleveland, after jumping, but the fact that he took with him $700 of Brooklyn money, brands him as a player of whom a club can hardly feel proud. Detroit has its quarrel just in defending Mc-Guire, on whom it admittedly has first claim. His own weakness in signing the second contract brought that player his troubles.
